

NEBOSH Award in Environmental Awareness at Work

The NEBOSH Award in Environmental Awareness at Work provides an introduction to environmental issues within the workplace. It is aimed at staff who require a basic understanding of environmental issues such as in organisations that are:

- Looking to introduce an Environmental Management System
- Seeking to improve their environmental performance

nebosh

LEARNING
PARTNER

GOLD

335

Course Content

The NEBOSH Award in Environmental Awareness at Work is made up of one unit:

Foundations of Environmental Awareness

- The meaning of environment, habitats, ecosystems, pollution and sustainability
- The Importance and benefits fo sustainable development
- Environmental management systems (EMS)

Pollution, impact assessment and emergencies

- Principles and practice of impact (risk assessments)
- The main sources, types, control and impacts of air pollution
- The main sources, controls and impacts of water pollution
- The main sources, controls and impacts of environmental noise
- Types of waste - hazardous, non-hazardous, and other legally controlled categories
- Waste management
- Dealing with environmental emergencies

Assessment

The NEBOSH Award in Environmental Awareness at Work is assessed by a multiple choice exam completed online.

Courses Available

In-Company
Worldwide